

PlaywrightsSpeak podcast

Playwrights Speak - Presents a chat with John Dias
from the Two River Theater, Red Bank NJ

I had the opportunity to sit down with John Dias on March 10th to talk about his work as the Artistic Director at the Two River Theater, in Red Bank NJ. John shares his thoughts and stories about working behind the scenes and the challenges to continue to make live theater an important cultural event.

We also had a special guest Sasha, John's dog who comes to work with him. So if you are wondering what the chewing is going on or clanging, it's Sasha. I think Sasha helps add to the realistic qualities of my recordings. I want them to sound real and not over produced in a studio.

Thanks to everyone at the Two River Theater to make this possible. Also thanks to Cassie Galasetti, from Social Sidekick for taking the pictures and making the arrangements to make this happen.